Since the year of 1999, 'Reason'- A Technical Magazine of Kalyani Government Engineering College, is being brought out by Kalyani Government Engineering College, Kalyani. While publishing this tenth issue, 'Reason' has achieved a distinction by getting it registered, and it has obtained an International Standard Serial Number (ISSN). With this ISSN 2277-1654, Reason- A Technical Magazine may well be recognized as a journal publication. This surely adds a laurel to the feather of this institute of repute.

We have an ambitious plan to publish high quality articles in this publication in the forthcoming issues, such that this journal gets a respectable impact factor to draw interest from the academic and research fraternity. In this direction, we will construct a new Editorial Board, and also we will make a panel of reviewers who would be eminent researchers in respective fields. It is, therefore, requested to all concerned to recommend eminent personalities to associate them with the publication of Reason- A Technical Magazine.

Prospective authors are invited to submit their articles within the scope of this journal for consideration for publication in Reason- A Technical Magazine. A 'Guideline to Authors' is included at the end of this issue for preparation of the article.

Hope, gradually Reason- A Technical Magazine would be finding out the real 'Reason' worth of its publication within the academic, industry and research fraternity by publishing high quality articles in it. Any comments or suggestions aiming at improving the standard of Reason- A Technical Magazine are earnestly solicited.

The cooperation, advice and support extended by the Principal of Kalyani Government Engineering College and all others concerned with the publication of this journal are sincerely acknowledged. The Reason- A Technical Magazine is sure to have ample 'Reason' to get continued patronage and support from all concerned in future also.

The New Year 2012 should usher in happy and joyful life for all, and also for the Reason- A Technical Magazine.
