

From the Desk of the Editor

It gives us immense pleasure and great privilege to express this Editorial Note. We are glad to announce that the twenty-first issue of our Journal, 'Reason- A Technical Journal', for the year 2022 has been published. I would like to confirm to all our readers that our consistent efforts will be aimed toward increasing the overall quality of our journal and we expect higher-quality submissions from the researchers in our future issues.

With the unconditional support of the Hon'ble Principal, distinguished members of the Editorial board and most importantly, the strong faith shown by all of our authors, who entrusted their precious work to our journal, it is possible to publish various issues of the Journal on a regular basis. It may also be noted that all the published articles of 'Reason- A Technical Journal' are open access and abstracted by i-Scholar, j-Gate and Crossref, USA.

This Journal is equally interested in all branches of Engineering and Technology. Each article is being assigned a digital object identifier (DOI) in the format: <http://doi.org/10.21843/reas/2021/iv-iv/212368>. Meanwhile, all the published articles in this Journal and also its previous version, "Reason- A Technical Magazine", are made freely available online in the website, www.i-scholar.in/index.php/RTJ.

We are serious about plagiarism, and from the 2016 issue, all the articles are plagiarism checked using 'Turnitin' software with the facility of 'Crossref' powered by 'iThenticate'. A maximum of 20% similarity content is considered to select an article for publication in this journal. Meanwhile, the contents of the journal volume can be circulated through social networking websites like Facebook, LinkedIn, etc. Authors can also freely upload the articles in their personal or institutional repository, and also in ResearchGate- one networking website among the researchers for wide dissemination of their articles, and Google Scholar, Academia, etc.

We also thank our panel of the eminent reviewers, who took time out of their busy schedules to complete the transparent, double blinded review process. The reviewers of our journal are committed in providing unbiased, rapid evaluations of the submitted manuscripts to shorten the duration between the submission and final publication. Dr. Sourabh Kumar Das, Principal, Kalyani Government Engineering College, always extends support and encouragement to bring out this journal. Members of Editorial Board have also given their advice whenever asked for. Authors of the articles of the present issue are also thanked for selecting this journal for submitting their articles. Moreover, we would also like to take this opportunity to thank all the support staff in getting 'Reason- A Technical Journal' published. Last, but not the least, we would also like to thank our partners, the publisher for all the assistance and support that their entire team has provided.

We should mention that there is no processing charge for the publication of articles in Reason- A Technical Journal, and authors will receive a hard copy of the Journal free of charge. We would like to encourage Researchers to submit their original research works in all areas of Engineering and Technology, applied science and management. It is our humble submission, to all the faculty members and research scholars of the Institution to pursue your friends, old colleagues and associates from various Higher Education Institutes all over the country to contribute their articles to Reason- A Technical Journal.

With these words, we conclude and promise that we will work hard in positioning 'Reason- A Technical Journal' as a leading journal that is scientifically rigorous and academically relevant and useful to academicians and Researchers. We welcome comments and suggestions that would advance the objectives of the Journal. Finally, On behalf of 'Reason- A Technical Journal', we would like to thank all authors, reviewers, the Editorial Board and readers for their constant support.
